Why choose the CELTA course?

It is the most widely-recognised initial qualification in teaching English as a foreign / second language and is the minimum qualification required to work at a British Council accredited school in the UK and in many established schools overseas.

It is for native and non-native speakers of English who have little or no experience of teaching.

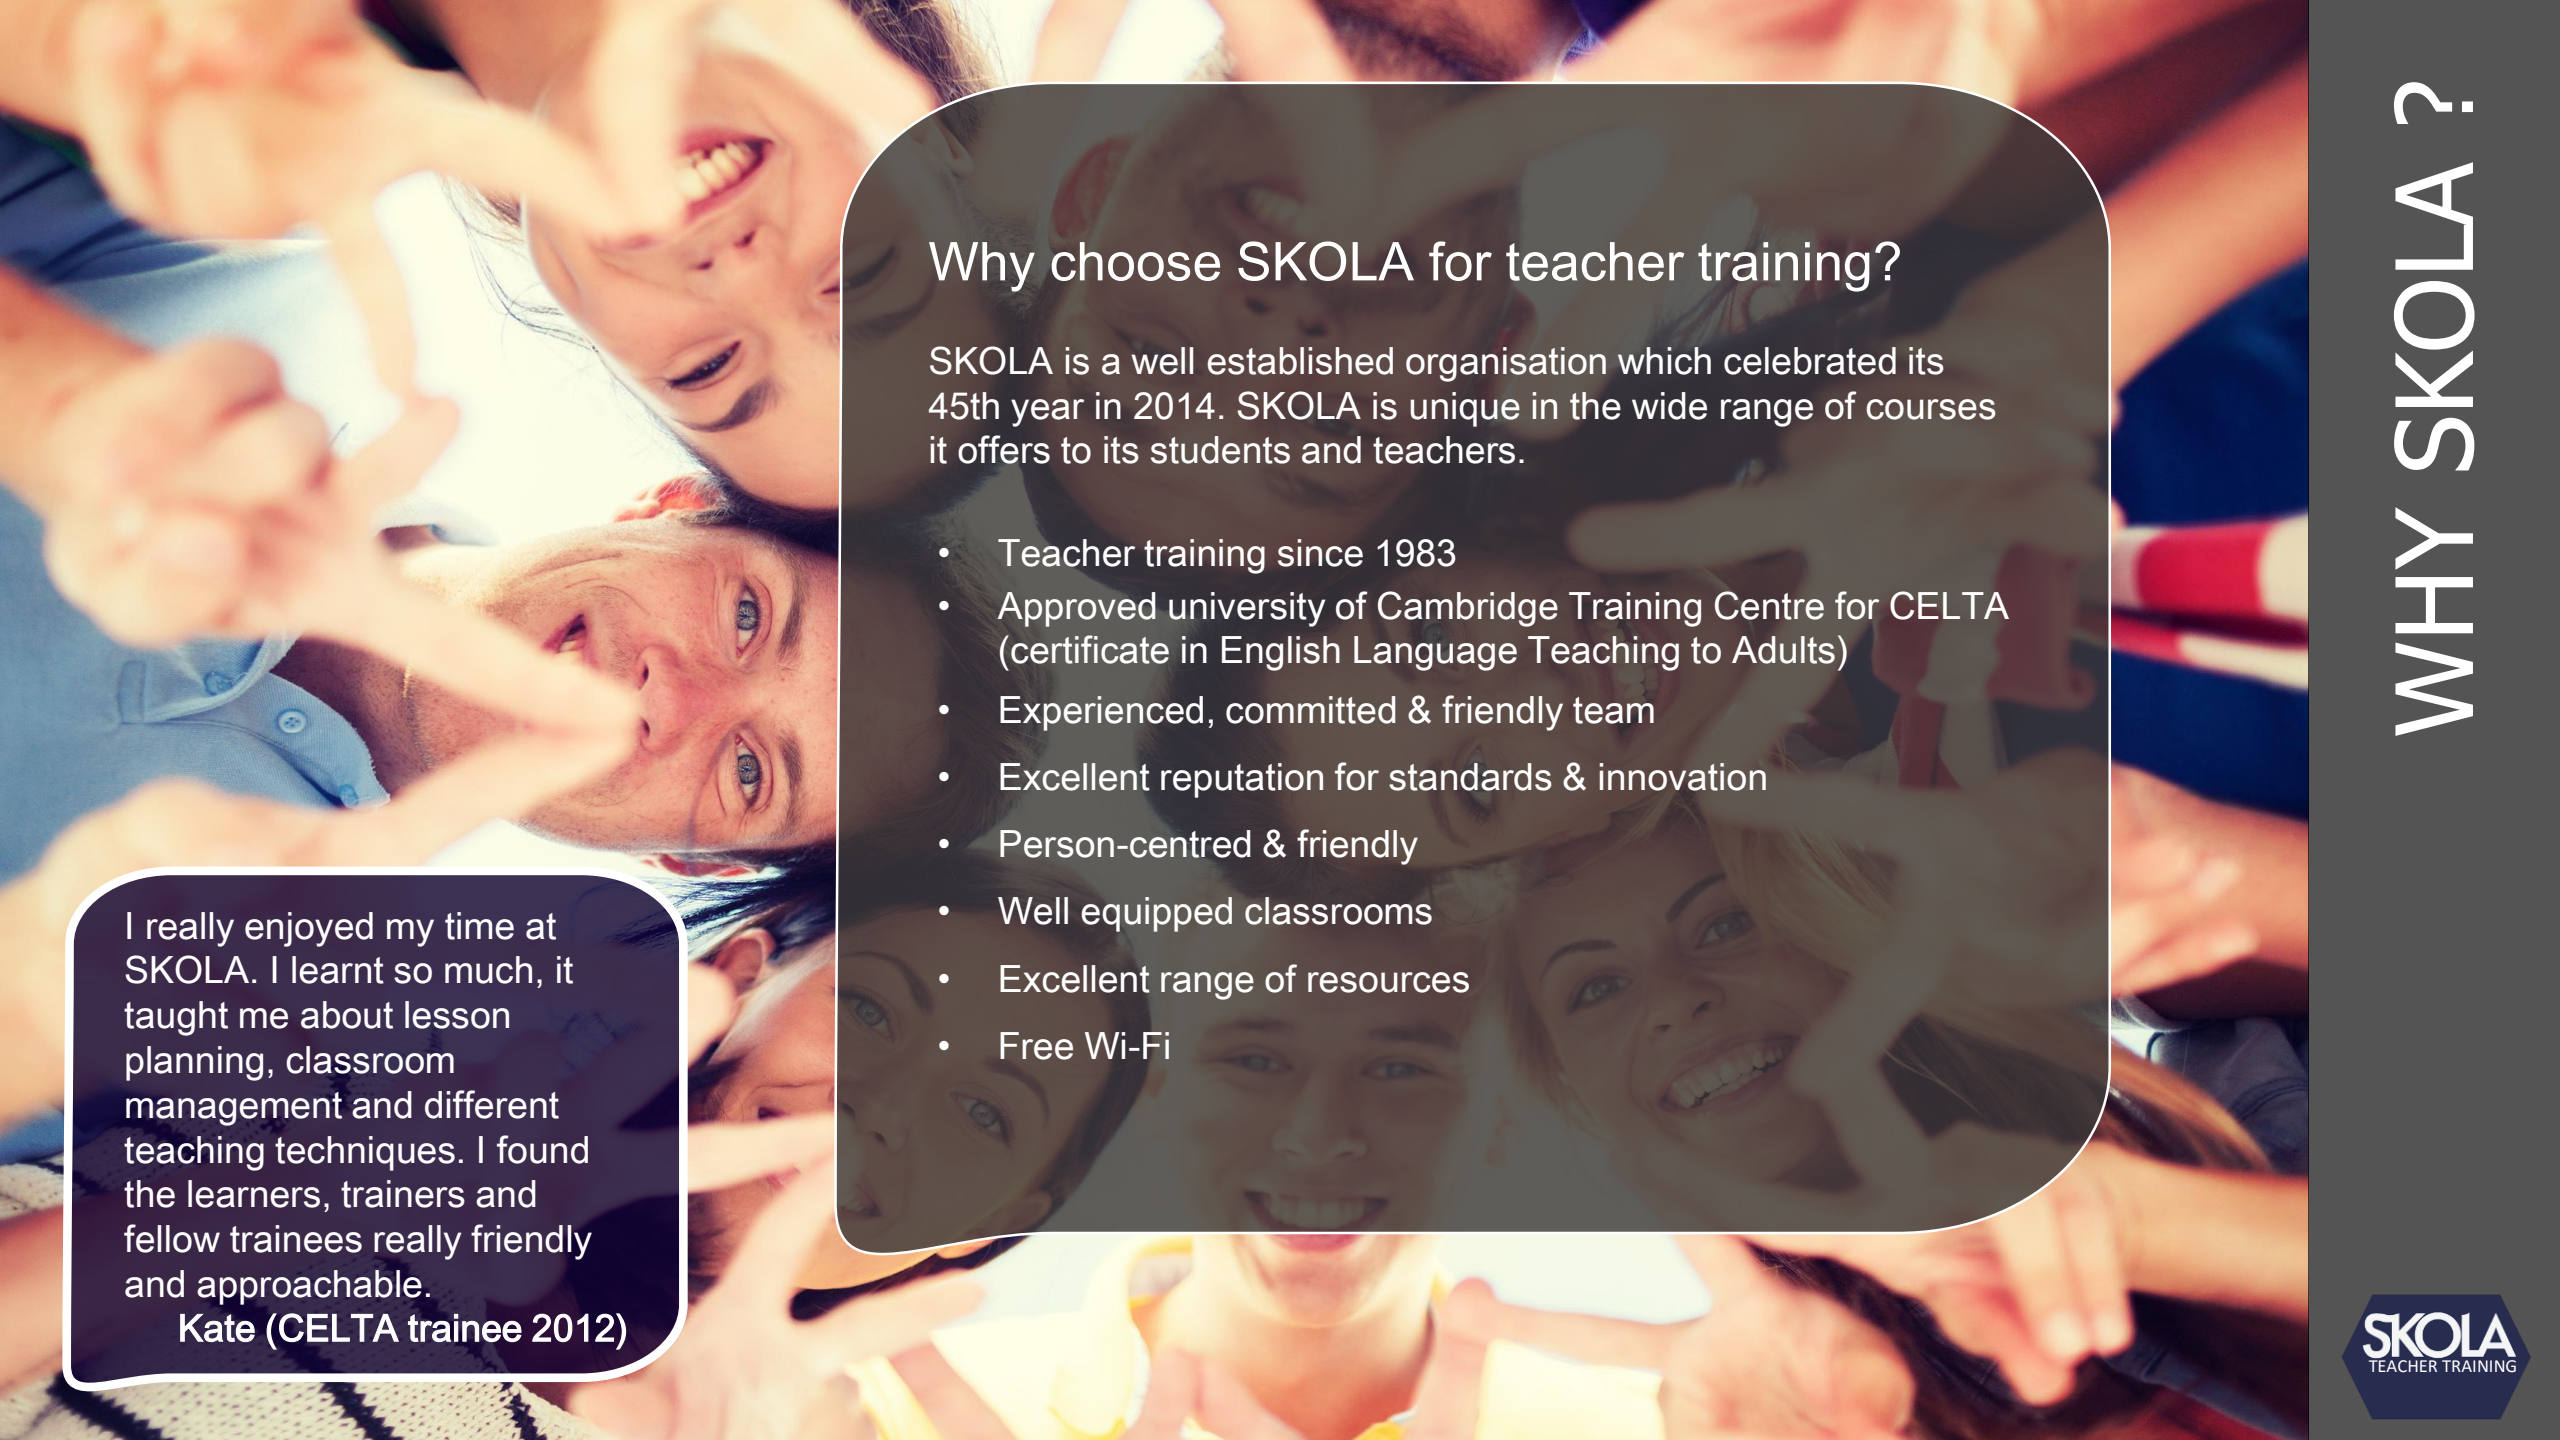

The syllabus and assessment criteria are laid down by Cambridge University. You are required to observe classes taught by qualified and experienced teachers (daytime classes). Trainees will also spend time doing guided lesson planning, supervised teaching practice and feedback.

You will also need to spend a significant amount of additional time on lesson preparation, written assignments, and course consolidation. There are 4 written assignments to be completed, requiring a total of about 3000 words.

Assessment is continuous and based on the trainee's teaching practice, written assignments, and overall professional development.

“Learning with SKOLA was a very supportive experience, both during and after the course. My experience with SKOLA was a hugely positive one and has set me up well for my first teaching job.”

Tim (CELTA trainee 2014)

I really enjoyed my time at SKOLA. I learnt so much, it taught me about lesson planning, classroom management and different teaching techniques. I found the learners, trainers and fellow trainees really friendly and approachable.

Kate (CELTA trainee 2012)
